Irish Athletics Champions

1861 - 2023

Comments, additions, corrections to Pierce O'Callaghan pierce@savvysportsmgt.com & Cyril Smyth csmyth@tcd.ie as at June 2023

The Irish Champion Athletic Club (Irish Champions AC) was founded during late 1872/early 1873 and organised the first Irish Championships on Monday July 7, 1873 in College Park Dublin. These championships have been held every year since and are the longest running national championships in the world. The Irish Champions AC, then foundered quite rapidly, being wound-up in 1880/81. Thereafter the championship meeting was run by an ad hoc committee in 1881, and by the Dublin Athletic Club from 1882 to 1884.

After several abortive attempts to establish a national governing body for athletics, two were formed over the winter months of 1884/85.

First the Gaelic Athletic Association (GAA) was formed not alone to encourage and administer athletics, but also to develop and foster the traditional Irish field sports of hurling and football, as well as handball.

Their action galvanised the existing athletics "establishment" in Dublin who perceived the formation of the GAA - insofar as pertained to athletics as a usurpation, and so was formed, very soon after, the Irish Amateur Athletic Association (IAAA).

The distinction between the two rival governing associations is often explained in purely political terms whereas, in reality, the situation is rather more complex; particularly since both organisations embraced a quite broad spectrum of political aspiration, so that once the initial hostilities subsided the majority of athletes, whatever their affiliations, seemed to have no philosophical problems competing in the promotions of both bodies, open meetings as well as championships.

The GAA was predominantly an organisation of rural Ireland, whereas the IAAA was an urban institution, principally of Dublin and, to a lesser extent, Belfast. Moreover the separate organisations differed in their very perceptions of the sport, what actually was meant by the term "athletics". Within the GAA the primary emphasis was on the traditional and popular pastimes of rural Ireland, jumping and weight-throwing; whereas within the IAAA, on the other hand, there was what might be termed a quite pronounced "harrier" bias, its membership being largely coterminous with that of the pre-existing Cross Country Association of Ireland.

Although initially the two associations were in acrimonious opposition, better sense soon prevailed to herald a period of polite co-existence, with their respective promotions being open to all amateurs of good-standing.

With the onset of Irish independence in 1922 finally one National Governing body was formed - the National Athletics & Cycling Association (NACAI) and one National Championships were organised from 1922-1936.

In 1937 the NACAI was suspended from membership of IAAF because it refused to confine its activities to the then Irish Free State resulting in the foundation of the AAUE which continued in existence until the formation of BLE in 1967 and AAI in 1999.

Notes: The inaugural Irish Marathon Championship was held in 1924. The 1924-1928 and 1948 courses are considered to have been short.

From 1924 through 1928, the route was from Garlow Cross (Navan) to Croke Park (Dublin) via Dunshaughlin and Phibsboro'.

The 1929 race was run over the same route but starting at Marin bridge, a point 1.5 miles beyond Garlow Cross.

The championship races from 1930-1937 were run over an out-and-back course starting and finishing at Croke Park, via Phibsboro, Ashtown, Clonee, and Dunboyne.

The 1938 National Championship was held in conjunction with the Cashel Sports, the route being Boherlahan, Holycross, Thurles, Horse and Jockey, Cashel and one circuit of the track.

The 1939 race was held in connection with the Tramway Sports at Croke Park, Dublin, the route being from Croke Park along the Ashbourne-Navan road and back to Croke Park.

‡ A re-measurement was made of the 1967 course and the distance was found to be 24.7 miles. The courses in 1971 and 1976 were also short.
